GNAC News & Notes

WEATHER OR NOT: The second week of GNAC play proved to be a game of whether teams could dodge the weather.

For Simon Fraser and Saint Martin's, the conditions proved favorable as both teams played their full complement of games at the Cactus Classic in Tucson, Ariz. The Clan made the most of the trip, going 5-1 in the team's season-opening games. The ledger included a pair of shutouts, 9-0 over UT-Permian Basin and 4-0 over Black Hills State on Friday, and a wild 13-12 victory over No. 21 Colorado Mesa on Saturday.

Saint Martin's went 2-3 in the tournament, improving to 4-4 overall on the season. The Saints collected a 4-3 win over Fort Lewis on Friday and a 12-1, five-inning victory over Black Hills State on Saturday.

Concordia had to dodge early rain in southern California to get four its six games in. The Cavaliers dropped both ends of a doubleheader at Concordia Irvine on Saturday and split a twinbill at Cal State San Marcos on Sunday. A scheduled Sunday doubleheader with Saint Katherine was canceled and replaced with the Cal State San Marcos games which had been originally scheduled for Friday.

Montana State Billings also got through some weather to play three of its four scheduled games in Denver. The Yellowjackets took a pair of losses to MSU Denver on Saturday and lost to Colorado Mines on Sunday before the second game against the Orediggers was canceled.

Western Oregon was not as lucky. The Wolves saw all five of its games at the Dixie State Classic canceled as well as a make-up doubleheader against Dixie State on Monday. Western is not scheduled to play again until the PFX Athletics Tournament, Mar. 1-4 in Orlando, leaving the Wolves with nearly a month between games.

Around The GNAC

CENTRAL WASHINGTON

- Central Washington's scheduled home-opening doubleheader against Division III Pacific Lutheran was canceled due to snow. The Wildcats return to action this weekend at the Cavalier Classic with games against Simpson (Calif.) on Friday, Eastern Oregon and Simpson on Saturday and Corban on Sunday.
- The previous week, Central Washington went 3-2 at the Courtyard Dixie State Classic. The Wildcats picked up wins over Metro State, Hawaii Pacific and Fort Lewis.
- Junior Savannah Egbert led the CWU offense, hitting .467 in the five games as went 7 for 15 with five runs and three RBI. Her best effort came against Fort Lewis on Friday where she went 2 for 3 with two runs and two RBI, including one on a two-out single in the fourth. Egbert has a .455 batting average through eight games, third in the GNAC, and shares the GNAC lead with six stolen bases.
- Freshman pitcher Samantha Stanfield earned two of the Wildcats' three wins in the circle. She allowed seven runs, one earned, on five hits with nine strikeouts to beat Hawaii Pacific on Thursday and then earned the win in relief over Fort Lewis on Friday, allowing two runs on seven hits in four innings.
